What We Like: Caldera views and intimate spaces create a truly inviting atmosphere.

What to Consider: It's a luxury destination, which means its peak season pricing can be high.

Andronis Boutique Hotel, a T+L reader's pick in the 2023 World's Best Awards, located on the cliffs of Oia, combines classic white-washed Greek architecture with plenty of lavish touches to create one epic hotel. Here, guests can swim in the exquisite bright blue pool overlooking the sea, dine at the Lauda Restaurant, which has equally beautiful views, and sleep in suites with their own plunge pools, too. Guests can also take part in the hotel's superb experiences program, which includes guided tours and wine tastings, so you can indulge however you like.

The Details:

- Location: Oia
- Distance From Airport: 10 miles from Santorini Airport
- Accessibility: No accessible rooms listed
- Wi-Fi: Included
- Resort Fee: No
- Parking: No
- Rates: Starting at $1,410 per night

Andronis Luxury Suites

What We Like: Panoramic views and exceptional dining make for a memorable stay.

What to Consider: The hotel is only open to adults and kids over 13, so families with small children will want to look elsewhere.

Andronis Luxury Suites is another T+L World's Best Awards winner in 2023, and sits just a few minutes away from its sister boutique property. Here, guests can expect the same elevated quality and meticulously well-designed suites that come with their own private pools. Guests can dig into a first-rate meal at Lycabettus Restaurant, which sits perched at the edge of the cliff, providing some of the best sunset views on the island. Don't miss the hotel's Mare Sanus Spa while you're there, either.

The Details:

- Location: Oia
- Distance From Airport: 10 miles from Santorini Airport
- Accessibility: No accessible rooms listed
- Wi-Fi: Included
- Resort Fee: No
- Parking: No
- Rates: Starting at $991 per night

What We Like: The hotel's spa-centered luxury ensures total relaxation.

What to Consider: The hotel's live music can get a bit lively, a consideration for those looking for complete tranquility.

Andronis Acadia, voted one of the best hotels in Greece by T+L readers in our World's Best Awards 2023, is a sanctuary for anyone who wants to disconnect from all the stressors of the world. Not only does it offer awe-inspiring views and epic accommodations, but it's also home to the Evexia Spa, which offers signature treatments and hours-long rituals. There's also the Kneipp pools, two L-shaped pools you can walk through with stones at the bottom for a little reflexology session.
